14. [REDACTED] BRIEFING Sat in during [REDACTED] briefing of Senator Richard Stone (D., Fla.), on the probable consequences of the United States' sale to Jordan of Hawk missiles. Senator Stone was concerned that the Jordanians would allow Soviet technicians access to the missiles. [REDACTED] stated that all indications are that the Jordanians are interested in the missiles purely for their own defense and would not allow the Soviets any access. Stone stated that he has been exploring his own proposal whereby the Arabs and the Israelis would allow families of Arabs and Jews in their respective countries to be reunited. This would be a humanitarian effort and he felt it would serve to promote peace. He would appreciate any information that the Agency might have as to the feasibility of such an effort.

15. [REDACTED] LIAISON At the request of Mr. Cary, I checked with the various offices within the Agency which might have had connections with the consultant management firm [REDACTED] As best we could determine, this Agency has had no contact of substance with the firm. I called Clark McFadden, Senate Armed Services Committee staff, and related the above to him.

After the hearing, I called Lombard and expressed our thanks for the Senator's statement (as the Director had done at the hearing). Lombard said he would send us copies.

2. [REDACTED] THIRD AGENCY Les Janka NSC staff, called in follow-up of my conversation on Friday with Jack Marsh, Counsellor to the President, on Senator Henry Jackson's (D., Wash.) request on sanitization of the Director's and Mr. Carl Duckett's (DDS&T) testimony on SALT ambiguities. Janka would like to have a copy of the transcript for review and I said I would check on what Duckett has done in this connection and be back in touch. (Mr. Cary is checking with Jack Maury on the status of sanitization of Secretary Schlesinger's testimony on this same subject and Mr. Duckett is pushing a review of the transcript for presentation to the Director with suggestions including the possibility of referral to the White House against the possibility of a decision to exert executive privilege in connection therewith.)
